

Best Practice (Earn while you learn)

AIM: The Institute practices earn while you learn to bring out the hidden talents and prepare them to shoulder professional assignment with relative ease. It also helps the students to step into the world of work before employment.

OBJECTIVES: The main objective is to practice to motivate, develop self-confidence, creating communicative skill, creative skills, managing finance and developing soft skills. These are the initiative measures of self-employment and self-reliance.

CONTEXT: Our founder President Late Shri Mahadevappa Rampure constructed this college for the upliftment of women in this area. The college girl students come from diverse background and communities with poor economy and socially weaker section. Hence to make them self-reliance, college encourages students to full fill their dreams and vision.

Earn while you learn is the best practice developed for the students. Due to pandemic, we are unable to put the stalls in the college campus so it was decided to create wats app group and students were added to that group, every Thursday students were allowed to post their articles, jewellery and dresses. some students took orders during festivals and delivered to the customers through post, some of them received after reopening of the college. many students took advice from staff members and put the staff, Price of the item is decided by the committee members and the student depending on their investment, 5% of the profit amount is given to the college by this she earns the extra pocket money by selling.

SUCCESS: Students gained the knowledge of using online platform effectively and they also learned writing post, product advertising, marketing etc. they also able learn communication skills, time management, self-earning, finance management. They experienced joy and at the same time they learned to utilize their leisure time to manage the stalls along with classes.
